AT A GLANCE · AUGUST 2026

The Market in 60 Seconds

Single-family homes and condos/townhomes are behaving like two different markets. Here is August 2026 against August 2025, side by side.

Single-Family Homes vs. August 2025		Condos & Townhomes vs. August 2025
MEDIAN SALE PRICE	CLOSED SALES	MEDIAN SALE PRICE	CLOSED SALES
$650,000 ↑ +3.2% from $630,000	1,112 ↓ -2.0% from 1,135	$300,000 ↑ +5.3% from $285,000	765 ↓ -6.7% from 820
ACTIVE INVENTORY	MONTHS OF SUPPLY	ACTIVE INVENTORY	MONTHS OF SUPPLY
4,345 ↓ -23.8% from 5,702	3.5 ↓ -32.7% from 5.2	5,770 ↓ -17.1% from 6,959	6.7 ↓ -25.6% from 9.0

What stands out

- 1 Single-family supply at 3.5 months is seller-leaning. Well-priced homes are moving faster, with median days to contract down to 40 from 46, even though closed sales slipped 2.0%.
- 2 Condos and townhomes offer more negotiating room at 6.7 months of supply, but active inventory is down sharply, 17.1% year over year, so that room is narrower than it was in August 2025.
- 3 Cash remains meaningful: 41.8% of single-family closings and 57.3% of condo/townhome closings were paid in cash (calculated from the reported counts).

FOR BUYERS

What This Means for Buyers

The data points to a firmer single-family market and a condo/townhome market that still leaves room to negotiate, though less than a year ago. How you prepare depends on which one you are shopping.

Single-Family Homes

3.5MONTHS OF
SUPPLY40MEDIAN DAYS TO
CONTRACT94.8%OF ORIGINAL
LIST PRICE

- Expect less to choose from.
Active single-family inventory is 4,345, down 23.8% from 5,702 a year ago. Set up alerts early and tour new listings promptly.
- Be ready before you find the one.
Median days to contract is 40. Have a current pre-approval (or proof of funds), and decide in advance what matters most in inspection and appraisal terms.
- Expect a gap between list price and sale price.
The typical sale closed at 94.8% of its original list price. Use recent closed sales, not asking prices, to judge where an offer should start.
- You may be competing with cash.
41.8% of single-family closings were cash (calculated). Financed buyers can compete on clean terms: solid pre-approval, reasonable timelines and a meaningful deposit.

Condos & Townhomes

6.7MONTHS OF
SUPPLY69MEDIAN DAYS TO
CONTRACT92.6%OF ORIGINAL
LIST PRICE

- You generally have more time and more leverage.
At 6.7 months of supply and 69 median days to contract, there is usually room to ask for a price adjustment, credits or repairs.
- That leverage is shrinking.
Supply fell from 9.0 to 6.7 months and inventory dropped 17.1%. The best-priced units in well-run buildings may not wait.
- Use the time for due diligence.
Review the association budget, reserves, recent and planned assessments, and inspection records before you commit. The price is only part of the cost of a condo.
- Financing needs an early check.
57.3% of condo/townhome closings were cash (calculated). If you are financing, confirm early that your lender will lend in the specific building.

Buyer checklist

- ☐ Pre-approval or proof of funds in hand
- ☐ Alerts set for the exact areas and property types you want
- ☐ Offer strategy based on closed comparables, not list prices
- ☐ For condos: association documents requested before you are under contract, or reviewed within your inspection period

FOR SELLERS

What This Means for Sellers

Buyers are still paying below original list price in both segments, which makes the first price you choose one of the most important decisions you make.

Single-Family Homes

3.5MONTHS OF
SUPPLY40MEDIAN DAYS TO
CONTRACT94.8%OF ORIGINAL
LIST PRICE

- Supply favors you. Pricing decides the outcome.
At 3.5 months of supply, well-priced homes are going under contract in a median 40 days. That speed tends to reward homes priced to recent closed sales.
- Price from closed sales, not list prices.
The typical sale closed at 94.8% of its original list price. Last year's prices and a neighbor's asking price are weak guides. A price that starts too high often has to come down later, after the listing has lost its first wave of attention.
- Prepare for a well-qualified buyer.
41.8% of single-family closings were cash (calculated). Having disclosures, permits and recent service records ready makes it easier for any buyer, cash or financed, to move quickly.
- Presentation still matters.
Fewer closed sales (1,112 vs. 1,135) means each buyer is choosing carefully. Repairs, cleaning and professional photography help your home compete.

Condos & Townhomes

6.7MONTHS OF
SUPPLY69MEDIAN DAYS TO
CONTRACT92.6%OF ORIGINAL
LIST PRICE

- Plan for negotiation and a longer runway.
At 6.7 months of supply and 69 median days to contract, most buyers will expect room to negotiate. Build that into your pricing and timeline.
- A higher median does not close the list-price gap.
Supply is down from 9.0 months and the median price rose 5.3% to $300,000, yet the typical sale still closed at 92.6% of original list price.
- Have building paperwork ready on day one.
Budget, reserves, assessment history, insurance and inspection status are what serious condo buyers ask about first. Gathering them early prevents delays after you accept an offer.
- Cash buyers are a large share of this market.
57.3% of condo/townhome closings were cash (calculated). Clear terms and a straightforward closing timeline appeal to these buyers.

Seller checklist

- ☐ Pricing based on recent closed sales for your property type and area
- ☐ Pre-listing repairs, cleaning and professional photography
- ☐ Disclosures, permits and service records organized
- ☐ For condos: association documents and assessment details gathered
