INTERPRETATION

What the Market Is Telling Us

What the August 2026 figures point to, tied directly to the tables on page 3.

4.9 mo

SINGLE-FAMILY MONTHS
OF SUPPLY

Single-family: near balanced, tilting toward sellers.

Supply eased from 5.4 to 4.9 months. The typical sale closed at 95.5% of original list price, up from 94.3%, and median days to contract fell 15.6% to 54. Both support the seller tilt.

SINGLE-FAMILY MEDIAN
PRICE

Single-family prices held essentially steady.

The median sale price was $402,500, compared with $400,000 a year earlier, while closed sales slipped 6.5% to 444.

7.6 mo

CONDO/TOWNHOME
MONTHS OF SUPPLY

Condos and townhomes remain buyer-leaning.

Active inventory fell 15.2% to 626 and supply dropped from 10.1 months, yet 7.6 months still leaves buyers with options. Median days to contract lengthened to 82 from 78, which makes precise pricing essential.

80

CONDO/TOWNHOME
CLOSINGS

Read the +7.2% condo median in context.

The median rose to $320,000 from $298,450, but it is based on 80 closings. Read it alongside 7.6 months of supply, 626 active listings and 93.7% of original list price, not as a universal increase in condo values.

25.2%

SINGLE-FAMILY

53.8%

CONDO/TOWNHOME

CASH SHARE
(CALCULATED)

Cash plays a very different role by property type.

25.2% of single-family closings (112 of 444) and 53.8% of condo/townhome closings (43 of 80) were paid in cash, calculated from the reported counts.

County figures blend varied local markets, such as Port St. Lucie, Fort Pierce, Tradition and Hutchinson Island, and conditions in any one of them can differ from the county median.

PRACTICAL GUIDANCE

For Buyers & For Sellers

The same county data calls for different moves depending on which side of the transaction you are on, and which property type you are dealing with.

For Buyers

Single-Family Homes

4.9 mo supply · 54 days · 95.5% of list

- Expect steady competition.

At 4.9 months of supply and 54 median days to contract, well-priced homes move. Have a pre-approval or proof of funds ready.

- Offer from closed sales.

Sales closed at 95.5% of original list price, so there may be less room than you expect. 25.2% of closings were cash (calculated).

Condos & Townhomes

7.6 mo supply · 82 days · 93.7% of list

- Use your leverage.

At 7.6 months of supply and 82 median days to contract, buyers can often negotiate on price, credits or repairs.

- Don't overread the median.

The +7.2% median reflects 80 closings. Judge each unit on its building's recent sales, budget, reserves and assessments.

For Sellers

Single-Family Homes

4.9 mo supply · 54 days · 95.5% of list

- The market tilts your way, narrowly.

At 4.9 months of supply, near balanced, homes priced to recent closed sales are closing at 95.5% of original list price.

- Price precisely from day one.

Median days to contract fell to 54. A realistic first price helps you capture early buyer attention.

Condos & Townhomes

7.6 mo supply · 82 days · 93.7% of list

- Price for a buyer-leaning market.

With 7.6 months of supply and 82 median days to contract, buyers have options. Precise pricing matters more than usual.

- Don't list off the headline.

The +7.2% median rests on 80 closings. Price from comparable sales in your building or community, with association documents ready.
